Call for Perspectives – deadline 13th November 2020

ANZSIL Perspective 19th Edition

The editorial team of Perspective now invite International Scholars and Practitioners to contribute short commentaries (800 – 1000 words) on areas of interest in international law for publication as a Perspective to our membership and on the new ANZSIL website Perspective webpage

In our October edition we heard from international scholars and practitioners on Prisoners of war, perceived threats to the making and enforcement of international law, a community-based approach to refugee resettlement in Australia and accountability for war crimes in Afghanistan.

We recognise the continuing importance of maintaining conversations and discussions on other topics with an international perspective, through diverse expert voices.

We now invite papers for the 19th Edition by 13 November. These can be broad or specific papers. We want to engage with all our interest groups and membership and to support the active collaboration and dialogue between members and others in the international law community on topical issues of interest in international law.

We welcome submissions from early career researchers and PhD students.

Please note, November will be the last ANZSIL Perspective for 2020.
